Sarno picks MGM

Mayor supporting South End casino

By PETER GOONAN
pgoonan@repub.com

SPRINGFIELD – Mayor Domenic J. Sarno announced the selection of MGM Resorts International on Tuesday to build a casino in Springfield under an agreement that includes MGM providing more than $25 million annually in property taxes and other city payments and more than 3,000 jobs.

During a crowded press conference at City Hall, Sarno announced his decision to choose MGM Resorts, which plans an approximately $800 million casino in the South End. MGM's proposal beat out a competing offer by Penn National Gaming, for a project in the North End of the downtown district.

The agreement will be forwarded to the City Council on Wednesday. If the council an-proves the agreement within two weeks, Sarno said it would allow for a citywide referendum vote that could be held as early as July 16.

The council can approve or reject the agreement. If it comes a reality, the project must be approved by voters and be chosen by the Massachusetts State Commission for the Gaming issued casino licenses.
