The Massachusetts Gaming Commission Announces Finalist for Executive Director Position

Law Enforcement Veteran and Seasoned Gaming Regulator Identified as Top Applicant

Today the Massachusetts Gaming Commission (MGC) announces law enforcement veteran and seasoned gaming regulator, Rick Day, as the finalist for the position of Executive Director. Mr. Day, who is currently the Executive Director of the Washington State Gambling Commission, has been selected as a finalist after a nationwide search that began with close to 100 names. Mr. Day will attend an open public meeting this Thursday to participate in a public interview conducted by the five gaming commissioners. The public meeting will take place THURSDAY, February 7, 2013, at 1:00pm located at 1000 Washington Street, Room 1-E.

Mr. Day has more than 30 years in the criminal justice system with more than two decades dedicated to state law enforcement and regulatory work involving gambling investigations and compliance. Since 2001, Mr. Day has been the Executive Director of the Washington State Gambling Commission where he currently leads over 150 gaming employees including special agents, auditors and licensing units. He also negotiates the Tribal-State Gaming compacts on behalf of the state. In addition, Mr. Day is responsible for successfully executing and completing statewide criminal and regulatory gambling investigations including felony cheating, bookmaking and employee theft. During his tenure as executive director, Mr. Day created an international task force with federal, state, and Canadian law enforcement agencies to investigate illegal internet gambling by actively investigating high-profile cases.

The gaming commission designated Commissioner Bruce Stebbins as the hiring manager for the executive director search. Working closely with MGC's contracted executive search firm, Juri-Staff, Commissioner Stebbins assessed and reviewed more than 20 potential candidates from across the country. After a lengthy and diligent search for experienced gaming applicants, Commissioner Stebbins will present his top finalist, Mr. Day, to his fellow commissioners at Thursday's open meeting.

Prior to his role as Washington's gaming control board executive director, Mr. Day was the first Director of Montana's then newly-created Department of Corrections from 1995-2000. As director, Day's responsibilities included organizing the first Department of Corrections in Montana's history, providing leadership and management for more than 1,000 positions, 25 field offices, eight secure facilities, probation and parole, and a 40,000 acre correctional ranch.

As Bureau Chief of the Gambling Control Division at the Department of Justice in Montana in 1989 from 1991, Mr. Day is also credited with establishing and managing Montana's first criminal and regulatory gambling investigations bureau for the Montana Attorney General's office.

Mr. Day began his career as a police officer in Montana. He graduated from Montana State University with a degree in Sociology/Criminal Justice. He also holds a Master's Degree from the University of Washington in Public Administration.
